The Legislative Season. The Virginia Legislature meeting by law on the first Wednesday in December, it will assemble this year on the first day of the month. The Federal Congress meeting on the first Monday in December, it will meet five days after the meeting of our Legislature. This will give us time to clear the decks of the Virginia State papers and prepare for the President's message and such accompanying documents as are of general

Without entering into speculations upon the forthcoming documents we undertake briefly to refer to a wide contrast between the present and the aute-war period of legis. lation in the Virginia Assembly.

The State of Virginia formerly entered targely into the business of building railroads and otherwise improving the Commonwealth in order to promote the convenience of the public, facilitate commerce, and advance general prosperity and wealth-Now the Constitution puts a prohibition upon further appropriations to these objects. Indeed, the State is without means, and the want of them is of itself a sufficient prohibition of all appropriations, while the public debt absorbs all the surplus resources of the

The Legislature, in this way, is altogether relieved from a branch of public concern which at one time occupied a large portion of every session, and employed the earnest deliberations of the very best minds in the State. Seeing the body relieved of so much labor, we wonder how it is that the sessions are still so extended. The general legislation ought not to occupy half the time that it once did; and yet it seems that the curtailment of the labors of the body to so serious a degree does not diminish deliberation or

Legislators contrive to fill up the time. What with local laws, and nominations, and old Major Winston (once sergeant-at-arms of the House) used to call it. The approaching session will have to elect a United States senator, but this work will have to be commenced at an early period of the session, and should be disposed of during the days of cutting out and preparing matters for legislation.

There is no utility in predictions as to the duration of the session, for there is no telling what will be the course of deliberation. The tax-bill will unquestionably consume much time, and some great fight may be brought on upon matter not now foreseen. But there can be no discussion such as we had in former days, when a bill of the Legislature involved millions, and when it aroused localities and sections in discussions remarkable alike for their earnestness and great

Senator Ferry, of Connecticut, who died on Sunday, was a politician of Radical type, with a trace of humane feeling and a sort of spa-modic conscientiousness. Occasionally he had misgivings and inclinations towards relenting. But he screwed his courage to the sticking point and followed Boutwell the sticking point and followed Boutwell the spicial attention of members of the next Legislature of Virginia and citizens generally to the fitness and general business qualification of Mr. Mornals for the office—a man whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office—a many whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office—a many whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office—a many whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office—a many whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office—a many whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office—a many whose experience as a many spicial strength of the office of STOLEKEEPER OF THE VIRGINIA PEMITENTIARY, we begin a strength of the office of STOLEKEEPER OF THE VIRGINIA PEMITENTIARY, we begin a strength of the office of STOLEKEEPER OF THE VIRGINIA PEMITENTIARY, we begin a strength of the office of STOLEKEEPER OF THE VIRGINIA PEMITENTIARY, we begin a strength of the office of STOLEKEEPER OF THE VIRGINIA PEMITENTIARY. in the impeachment case. The conscientious intervals came upon him, and for a time it seemed to be clear that he would join the GREELEY-Liberal party; but the violent period followed in time to disappoint the calculations of the Liberals. He sustained GRANT for the presidency and resumed his position in the Radical ranks. His conduct was not calculated to win the confidence of Liberals or Radicals. He was a sort of amphibium. The most of his time he spent in the bitter waters of Radicalism. Now and then he came on shore and sunned himself while elevating his head and reconnoitering the ground about him. But he soon dropped from his perch back into the water. We can well imagine the now-departed senator to have been greatly perplexed between his good and evil genius. But, being gone, we trust he is at rest, and trust that he may at MANLY'S HOTEL, consisting of escape the harsh verdict he gave against ANDREW JOHNSON-Viz., "guilty."

Mr. RANDALL is now commended by the "hards" for Speaker of the House of Representatives on the ground that he is opject of "hard-money" wrath. And what I BLACK WALNUT EXTENSION-TABLE eight of the largest and finest stocks of has the question to do with these gentlemen? | 1 PIANO, We would vote for the most capable, whether "hard" or "soft." If we may be allowed to make the comparison, we would say that the zeal for hard money has been degraded into a worship. The "golden calf" is once more on its pedestal, and its worshippers are humbled into dust in their sordid piety.

The general Press dispatches from Washington inform us that "it is said in naval circles that the repair and preparation of vessels have no more reference to Spanish affairs than to those of any other country."-New York Tribune.

Then, what is the meaning of it? This is what Congress will have to know. If it is all right, there's an end on it; and if it ain't, the people ought to know of the fact.

The following is the best story for its length we have seen for some time: "There is a story of an amateur hunter in the Rocky Mountains who followed a grizzly bear for four days, and then abandoned the pursuit, alleging as a reason that 'the trail was getting too fresh.'"

We have from Mr. JAMES E. GOODE a copy of an edition of his Almanack for 1876, which contains the names of the members of the new Legislature.
